The Inclusive Classroom with Paula Kluth, Ph.D.

This interactive day features group activities, real-world stories, and tools you can bring back to the classroom immediately. Participants will learn practical ways of supporting students with autism spectrum labels and other disabilities within a general education classroom. The centerpiece of the presentation is Paula's "Top Ten Strategies List for Inclusive Classrooms" in which she addresses the need for sensory supports, visuals, active learning, "safe space," and materials that capitalize on student strengths. Other topics addressed include defining (and redefining) autism, listening to the voices of those with autism, creating more responsive lessons, making the classroom comfortable, and providing opportunities for communication skill development. The presentation provides teachers with the necessary knowledge and strategies to understand every student as complex, as capable, and as a learner.

"The Way I See It" and "Developing Talents: Careers for Individuals with Asperger's and High-Functioning Autism" with Temple Grandin, Ph.D.

From her innovative book, "The Way I See It," Temple Grandin will get down to the real issues of autism- the ones parents, teachers and individuals on the spectrum face every day. She offers helpful do's and don'ts, practical strategies and try-it-now tips, all based on her "insider" perspective and a great deal of research. After lunch Temple will cover her book "Developing Talents." This remarkable instruction is essential for individuals on the spectrum, along with anyone who teaches, cares for or employs someone on the spectrum. She shows how to apply her guidelines, suggestions and examples to career development in real life. A question and answer period will be held after the last break and will cover a multitude of issues concerning the autism spectrum.
